| IVANKA TRUMP

Brooke Thomas is a business leader, speaker, and international bestselling author known for activating women to elevate how they think, lead, and build. She is the founder of Live Out Loud, a leadership movement for women who are already building and ready to increase their capacity for more.

Through her masterminds, live events, and mentorship, she equips high-performing women who have outgrown traditional strategies and are ready for a network that challenges their current level. Her community is built around the highest-performing women in business today. The top 10% gather inside her core environment, an elite circle of driven leaders while the top 1% ascend to The Queen's Table, her most exclusive and powerful mastermind, reserved for the women operating at the highest level of influence, impact, and success.

For women succeeding at the highest levels, there are very few rooms to step into. And for those determined to build with faith at the center, there simply was not a space that matched their ambition, excellence, and calling, so Brooke created that space. Her journey began in 2004 with a stage three melanoma diagnosis during pregnancy, which became the catalyst for how she lives and leads today.
